CAREER OF LADY BROOKE.

The Woman who Caused the Baccarat Scar dnl-Her Reputation not the Best on Dispatch in New York World

The relations between the Prince of Wales and Lady Brooke have been the topic of social gossip on several occatopic of social gossip on several occasions. As yet nobody has openly accused the pair of any undue intimacy, yet it has been repeatedly hinted that if Lord Brooke were not so easy going he would long ago have put a stop to the repeated interviews between his wife and the heir apparent. It is also a well known fact that the Princess of Wales has strongly objected to having Lady Brooke's society forced upon her, and that the Queen simply ignores her. A few years ago rumor had it that Lady Brooke had become smitten with the handsome Gnardsman, but that Sir William Gordon-Cumming, being aware of the close relations between his friend the Prince and the lady in question, we have advanced in the lady become the Prince and the lady in question, met her advance coldly. Lady Brooke has always been known among her friends and at court as one of the most mischievous gossip-mongers. She is considered a woman who will never rest until also has brought with men any considered a woman who will never rest until she has brought ruin upon any person she hates. Her past has been such as to give color to the unfavorable comments made on her character. All London knows that her married life is an unhappy one. Lord Brooke has always been an insignificant man, who has no other merit except that of having been a college chum of the late Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany.

Leopold, Duke of Albany.
Lady Brooke before her marriage was Miss Maynard. Her father, Col. Maynard, left an enormous fortune, of which nard, left an enormous fortune, of which only the smaller part went to his widow, who soon after his death became the wife of the Earl of Rosslyn. Lord Brooke is the eldest son of the Earl of Warwick, of Warwick Castle. He is undoubtedly the poorest peer in the United Kingdom, and consequently wnen. Lord Brooke's marriage with Miss Maynard came off it was halled with delight by the Earl and his family. A few years after their marriage rumors became afloat concerning an imminent social scandal in which the names of several prominent statesmen, officers, &c., were connected with that officers, &c., were connected with that of one of the wealthiest and most beautiful ladies of the English aristocracy. It did not take long until these rumors assumed greater consistency, and it became an open secret that Lady Brooke's reputation was at stake. No less than fourteen co-respondents were named. reputation was at stake. No less than fourteen co-respondents were named, among them, as usual, the gay Prince, the Duke of Marlborough, and even Lord Randolph Churchill. The affair Lord Randolph Churchill. The affair was hushed up, and the only man who saved his reputation in the matter was Lord Randolph Churchill. The rest carried the stigma of the affair until the scandal, like many others, had died out. It seemed then but little short of a miracle that the pure, sweet, simple girl who but a few years ago appeared to be the essence of truth, goodness and purity, should be brought in court with no less than fourteen co-respondents so shortly after her marriage.

Another interesting fact is that Lady Brooke was an intimate friend of Lady Colin Campbell. The foul air, which infests the circle of her intimate acquaintant ances and the unmanliness of her lord and master have certainly much to do with the vagaries and eccentricities of

with the vagaries and eccentricities of her present life. Ever since this bean-tiful and in some ways talented woman became prominent in society she has been the public leader of a very fast set at London, Ascot, Saudown and Good-wood. In racing circles she is known as the "lady plunger," and many a "booky" has gone home with his pockets filled with crisp banknots after her ladyship has had a bad day. Some years ago she spent the season at Monte Carlo, and there, too, she was said to have lost a large amount of her father's wealth. The real cause why Lord Brooke did not push the divorce case above refer-red to has never been known, but it was hinted that the old Earl of Warwick objected to having his untarnished name dragged into court. Apart from this, Lord Brooke's next brother, Cap-tain Fulke Greville, was acting as beartain Falke Greville, was acting as bearleader to the Prince of Wales's eldest son, and it is likely that a good deal of influence was brought to bear upon the heir of Warwick Castle from that quarter. Furthermore, Lady Brooke's stepfather, the Earl of Rosslyn, was Captain of the Corps of GentlemenatArms, and he is one of the most conspicuous figures of London society. An axcellent sportsman and an execrable poet, he has the highest opinion of himself. He is, however, not popular, and is often sneered at. His sister is married to Count Munster, the German Ambassador at Paris.

HOUSEHOLD RECIPES.

Young Onions—Remove the tops, wash and peel. Boil in hot water for half an hour, then drain off the water and cover them with hot milk and water, using the same quantity of each. Let them boil till tender, drain and cover with rich milk and cream, season with salt, pepper and butter. Do not cook in iron.

How to Cook Steak—A Philadalphia

cook in iron.

How to Cook Steak—A Philadelphia broil is very handy where wood is used for fuel, and could not be told from a broiled steak except from the fact that the marks of the grid-iron are wanting. Make a smooth and clean frying pan very hot. Do not use any fat, but lay on the meat, turn and cook exactly as above, and in either case as soon as done transfer to a hot dish containing butter, and some pepper and salt. Turn the meet over once or twice before sending it to the tables.

General Rules for Cake Making.—In

ing it to the tables.

General Rules for Cake Making.—In cake making as a general rule the following directions may be followed with profit: 1. The ingredients must be the best. 2. Never allow butter to become oily, though it is best to have it salt enough to mix with sugar. 3. Always use an earthen or enameled dish to mix it in a wooden spoon, if possible with which to beat it. 4. Beat butter and sugar together and then add milk or other liquids, yolks of eggs and spices, and last, the beaten whites of eggs and flavoring. If fruit is used put in with the flour. 5. For small cakes the oven should be pretty hot; for larger cakes only of moderate heat. Thrust a broom straw though the thick part of the cake; it the straw should come out free from dough it is done.

from dough it is done. From What is Left Over.—The House-kold recommends the following ways in which appetizing dishes can be made from the little left over from a meal: 1. Take cold catment, add one egg, a spoon of cream, and flour to stir stiff.

Fry in little flat balls in a hot buttered skillet. Use cold rice in the same way. skillet. Use cold rice in the same way. Always serve such calces yet warm; they fall if left to cool. 2. Nearly every family like corn meal mush, either in milk or fried crisp in drippings. If there is a cupful left and is just to be thrown away, wait a moment. Beat it up soft in a quart of milk, add a cup of molasses, one of raisins, and two eggs, with spices to suit faste. Bake two hours. It is a delicious pudding with sugar and cream. 3. Take the cup of rice left from breakfast, add a cup of cream, one-half cup sugar, the yolks of two eggs. Cook for a moment, and place in a glass dish. Use the two whites for the top and place bits of jelly upon it. Now you have a dish for tea with but little trouble.

HINTS ON HEALTH.

Ammonia for the Bath.—The Annals of Hygiene has discovered there is nothing that so quickly restores tone to exhausted nerves and strength to a weary body as a bath containing an ounce of aqua ammonia to each pail of water. It makes the flesh firm and smooth as matble and renders the body pure and free from all odor.

one and renders the body pure and free from all odor.

Sleep as a Medicine—A physician says that the cry for rest has always been louder than the cry for food. Not that it is more important, but it is often harder to obtain. The best rest comes harder to obtain. The best rest comes from sound sleep. Of two men or women, otherwise equal, the one who sleeps the best-will be the most healthy and efficient. Sleep will do much to cure irritability of temper, peevishness, and uneasiness. It will restore vigor to an overworked brain. It will build up and make strong a weak body. It will cure a beadache. It will cure a broken spirit. It will cure a serrow. Indeed. cure a headache. It will cure a broken spirit. It will cure a sorrow. Indeed, we may make a long list of nervous and other maladies that sleep will cure. The cure of sleepleseness requires a clean, good bed, sufficient exercise to promote weariness, pleasant occupation, good air, and not too warm a room; a clear conscience, and avoidance of stimulants and narcoties. For those who are overworked haspard, nervous, who are overworked, haggard, nervous, who pass sleepless nights, we commend the adoption of such habits as will secure sleep, otherwise life will be short, and what there is of it sadly imperfect.

Care of the Eyes.—A writer in the Home Journal says: "Traveling abroad or studying at home it will be wise to remember two things—to wash the teeth with slightly salted water at night and bathe the eyes with cold water. If the eyelids are irritated continuously wash, then in the eyelids are irritated continuously wash them in weak camphor water, which will destroy the small animalcule which cause the constant soreness. This do at intervals. If the eyes are tired and inflamed from loss of sleep, by sitting up late or long travel, apply in the morning soft white linen, dripping with hot water—as hot as you can bear it—laying the cloth upon the lids. You will feel the eyes strong and free from pain or distress in half an hour. I would not venture to offer any remedy for so delicate a thing as the eyes if I had not used this myself for years and had not good eyesight. This, of course, applies only to feverish or inflamed applies only to feverish or inflamed lids. Hot water is a very curative thing, and with tired eyelids a blessing. The wet rag should be laid on the eyes very wet and hot, and removed before the cloth is cool.

It seems almost a crime for a man to "hide his light under a bushel." If he has something new, that will benefit the human race, he should make it known. Old-fogy physicians tread the beaten path of their grandfathers, denounce advertised remedies, and never learn anything new. Medical science knows no parallel to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, compounded by a physician of skill and long experience, especially for the maladies which afflict women. It effects a permanent cure for those agonizing disorders which attack her frail organism, and is an anchor of hope alike to delicate girls and suffering women; contains no deleterious drugs. A guarantee on the bottle-wrapper, refunding the price in case of failure. Of druggists, $100. It seems almost a crime for a man to Every man thinks he would be properly appreciated if his wife knew some other men he knows of."

A Wonder Worker.

A Wonder Worker.

Mr. Frank Huffman, a voung man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Golds, and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is to-day enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest Trouble try it. - The Effect Was Magical.

I suffered from cancer on my lip that defied the skill of the best physicians of the State. I had it burned out, but the operation only mode it worse, causing it to spread over more surface and cat deeper in. I finally used Swift's Specific (S. S. S., to heal it up and drove the poison out of my blood. The effect of the Specific was magical! It healed up entirely without leaving a car as a reminder. This was over four years ago, and since then there has been no sign of a return of the cancer. I will cheerfully answer any inquiries in regard to my case.

Cuicago, Liz..., June 18.—There was a promise of higher prices in all classes of property traded in, on the opening this morning, but the promise was broken before the session closed and broke with it everything, closing at about the bottom figures of the day. Wheat showed steadlness and little strength at the opening. It was said to be still raining in many parts of Kansas, and where the rains had ceased the fields were too wet to admit of harvest operations. Cables were steady, and for a time there was a fair demand and the market held steady. Later, however, it was amounced that there was a prospect of clearing weather in the southwest and in the morthwest as well, and the feeling began to weather. The downward progress was assisted by a cablegram from Paris notting a decline.
